

After hearing about the Consumer Bankers Association (CBA) challenging Indiana's Telephone Privacy law in a proceeding before the Federal Communications Commission I would like to voice my opinion. I signed up for this law at the beginning. I already have a busy day fulfilling my duties in order to carry out my many obligations. I do not enjoy have phone calls from businesses wanting more money from my pocket. If I want their business I will ask for it. If I didn't care that they call I would not have signed up. Please, please, please do not allow them to destroy a good thing. Thank you.
